

Roxette - Half A Woman, Half A Shadow

Tom: D

Wash my pain away,
Half a woman, half a shadow...

Daylight is breaking again.

I hide in the dark. I'm watching the rain.
You're out of touch. You're out of reach.
What can I say, I never wanted it this way.

Love sleeps all alone.
The cold telephone, I know the heart.

Yes, I know the kind. The kisses of fire, turning to grey. I never wanted it this way.
I always wanted you to stay.

Cause I'm half a woman, half a shadow.

Love always change with the trees,
the spring and the leaves, the waves on the sea.
Wilder than light the wind in your eyes led me astray. I never wanted it this way.
I always wanted you to stay.

Oh I need you, yes I need you. Give me a reason to believe.
