                                                               And pray the darkness don't give way to the light
G
Let there be music and let there be thrills
                                                               Em
                                                                                 С
                                                               I wish I may I wish I might
You don't like the silence and you never will
                                                                       G
                                                               Stay with you

                                                                                                            D
We'll sound all the sirens and bend all the rules
                                                               Don't try to wake me just hold on and never let go
