

Seafret - Love Won't Let Me Leave

```
Lost track of the days that I spent % \left\{ 1\right\} =\left\{ 1\right\} tom:
                                                                                                               D
Intro: D Em7 Bm A D G
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Running circles around this town
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    [Pré-Refrão]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   I can't deny it, the harder I fight
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   The deeper it pulls me down
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   Stuck in the same place
 [Primeira Parte]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    I can't even see straight
Searching for some kind of meaning
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    [Refrão]
Answers I can believe in
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   Well you knock me off my feet
Something now that you're not around
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   Yeah, you made a mess of me
I know it's complicated
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   But without you
Someday I'll have to face it
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    I just feel so incomplete
But I don't think that I can do it now
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   I can see that open road
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   But I just can't let you go
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   There's no air to breathe
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    It still brings me to my knees
 [Pré Refrão]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    Love won't let me leave
I can't deny it, the harder I fight
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    [Ponte]
The deeper it pulls me down
Stuck in the same place
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   The road is long, the wait goes on for my love
I can't even see straight
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   I've had enough of packing up for somewhere new
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   Standing strong, where I belong for my love
 [Refrão]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   I've had enough of packing up for somewhere new
Well you knock me off my feet
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    For somewhere new
Yeah, you made a mess of me
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    [Refrão]
But without you
 I just feel so incomplete
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   Well you knock me off my feet
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   Yeah, you made a mess of me
I can see that open road % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right)
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   But without you
But I just can't let you go
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        D
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    I just feel so incomplete
There's no air to breathe
It still brings me to my knees
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   I can see that open road
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   But I just can't let you go
Love won't let me leave
 [Segunda Parte]
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       There's no air to breathe
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   It still brings me to my knees
I've been walking the pavement
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   Love won't let me leave
```

Acordes

