

See - Potions

```
Tom: Eb
                                                               Your lips, your teeth, don't ever stop now
                                                                Out of breath, out of mind
 I just wanna know, got me on these potions babe
Love the words you say, you make me wait for it
                                                               Addicted to your light
                                                                    Eb
When you pull me in I don't want to look away
                                                               These potions, these potions
                                           Bb Ab
                                                                Out of breath, out of mind
Got me in your gaze, my eyes they fall for it
                                                               Addicted to your light
                    Cm
You're all I need between my sheets
                                                                     Fb
    Fb
Just you and me, don't ever slow down
    Ab
Your hands should be all over me
                                                                Breathing in these potions
     Fh
Your lips, your teeth, don't ever stop now
                                                                I'm addicted to your light
                                                                No more second guessing
Out of breath, out of mind
                                                                I'm addicted to your light
Addicted to your light
These potions, these potions
                                                                Out of breath, out of mind
Out of breath, out of mind
                                                               Addicted to your light
Addicted to your light
                                                               These potions, these potions
    Eb
These potions, these potions
                                                                Out of breath, out of mind
                                                               Addicted to your light
With a lack of touch, days are gray without you babe
Tell me anything, my lips they fall for it
 Glass is full and I'm sipping on the words you say
                                                                    Eb
You've got me drunk on these potions everyday
                                                                    Ah
You're all I need between my sheets
    Eb
Just you and me, don't ever slow down
                                                                    Ab
                                                                                   Cm
    Αb
                         Cm
Your hands should be all over me
                                                                     Eb
```

Acordes

These potions, these potions These potions, these potions You're all I need between my sheets Just you and me, these potions Your hands should be all over me Your lips, your teeth, don't ever stop now These potions, these potions These potions, these potions