

Sevendust - Deadset

```
Tom: E
                                                             Guitar 2
                                                             Play 1st half of "verse" riff 2x
  Submitted by Alex V.
                                                             PRE-CHORUS:
Tuning is 1\frac{1}{2} steps down from standard using dropped D.
                                                             (This pasrt is pretty layered so here's the main feel)
Intro: Guiatr 1 [using wah]
                                                                          "One single life
                                                                                                     needs not to die..."
                                                       p.m.
- - - |
Guitar 2
                                                             CHORUS:
                                                             Guitars 1 & 2 play "heavy intro" riff
                          pick scrape
                                                             2ND VERSE (w/o a "B Section")
                                                     p.m. - 2ND PRE-CHORUS
                          pick scrape
- - |
                                                             3RD CHORUS
HEAVY INTRO:
Guitars 1 & 2
                                                             BRIDGE: Guitar 1 solo
                                                             (it plays variations with the root notes of the verse riff up on the neck using a wah)
- |
                                                             Guitar 2
VERSE: [2x]
Guiatrs 1 & 2
                                                              p.m. - - - - - |
p.m. - - - - - |
                                     p.m. - - - - - | p.m. - - - - - |
p.m. - - - - - |
                                     p.m. - - - - - - -
                                                            Let chords ring
                                                             3RD PRE-CHORUS
B Section:
                                                             Section before last Chorus:
Guitar 1
                                                             Guitars 1 & 2
  "Omce I say
                            I can't be saved..."
                                                                                                              p.m. - - - |
                                                             FINAL CHORUS
```

Acordes

