

Shawn James - Insane

Tom: G

[Primeira Parte]

Lately I've been thinking that everyone's insane
 Lost their minds out in the world and now look whose to blame Themselves, but they just can't see that
 So pack your bags and leave the past, let's go for a ride
 The wind and water carry us, they will be our guides
 Tonight, we'll just sail free

[Refrão]

The moon will light our path through these darkened seas, I'm sure

And all the world will stare and wonder where we'll go

[Segunda Parte]

Have you ever though of leaving everything you've ever loved?
 Starting over someplace inexplicably unknown
 Oh, that's what I crave
 It's the thrill that keeps me going and puts the gleam all in my eyes
 I adventure just to conquer a new monstrous enterprise
 And all the world is my stage

[Refrão]

Well maybe someday you'll see how it all makes sense to me
 And then you'll jump on board and we can sail the seven seas
