

Shawn James - The Thief And The Moon

Tom: G
Intro: Em G B Em

Em Said the thief to the Moon "I'll extinguish your light soon

Am C G B
Em I'll put an end to all the light that you shed on this world in its darkened state

Am C Em Said the Moon to the Thief, You know not of what you seek

Am C G B
Em You'll doom the world to wander the night with no light to guide the paths that men seek

Am C Am Em
Oh, but all the wealth in the world will be mine

Without a means of defense for all those blind

Am C Em
My very existence is a race to attain wealth

B Em
For the thief's only loyalty in life is to the devil and himself

Em G B Em

Am D Am Em
The earth will rise up and devour all that you are

Am D Am Em
The skies will call forth thunderous storms from afar

Am D Am Em
When you're dead, there'll be no grave to remember your name

B Em
For your greed brings your end and there's no one but yourself to blame
