

Simple Plan - The Worst Day Ever

```
Tom: D
                                                                water
Intro:
P.M
                                                                    P.M (slowly letting go to open chord)
   Nothing during:
   Six Am the clock is ringin' I need to spend an hour
                                                                   Cuz everyday is never ending I need to work I'm allways snoozing
   then:
                                                                spendina
   Cuz I don't think I'm gonna make it.
                                                                   Chorus:
                                                                   And I feel like I'm living the worst day over and over
  I punch in, I'm still sleeping watch the clock but it's not again... And I movina e: --- B: ---
                                                                   feel like the summer is leaving again... I G: -4-
D: -4-
                                                                   feel like I'm living the worst day, I feel like you're gone
A: -2-
E: --- | Let Ring
   Pre Chorus:
                                                                   And everyday is the worst day ever
   Cuz everyday is never ending I need to work I'm allways spending Whoohoo And Everyday is the worst day ever Chorus:
   And I feel like I'm living the worst day over and over Bridae:
                                                                   It's so long, I can't go on again... And I feel like the summer is leaving again... I Chorus: (clean)
                                                                   And I feel like I'm living the worst day over and over again... And I feel like I'm living the worst day, I feel like you're gone (Distortion again)
  And everyday is the worst day ever
                                                                   feel like the summer is leaving again... I Intro: Again: feel like I'm living the worst day, I feel like you're gone
   Verse 2:
   Yesterday was the worst day ever and tomorrow won't be
                                                                   And everyday is the worst day ever it's history repeating (on and on) WHooo whoohoo and everyday is the worst day ever e: --- B: ---
G: -4-
D: -4-| Let ring
                                                                   Whooo whoohoo whoo whoohoohoo
                                                                                                         (It's the worst day
A: -2-
                                                                ever)
E: --- İ
   Summer plans are gone forever, I trade them in for dishpan End:
                                                                   Whooo whoohoo
                                                                                      Whowho Whoohoohooo
```

Acordes

