

Skylar Grey - Words

```
Tom: Bb
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              G )
      (com acordes na forma de
Capostraste na 3ª casa
Intro: Em G D Am (2x)
Always in a rush
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            So many questions
Never stay on the phone long enough
Why am i so self-important?
Said i'd see you soon
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            Not anymore
But that was, oh, maybe a year ago
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            So much to tell you
Didn't know time was of the essence
So many questions
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  Em
But i'm talking to myself
I know that you can't hear me any more
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Em
Not anymore
So much to tell you
And most of all goodbye
But i know that you can't hear me any more
It's so loud inside my head % \left\{ 1,2,\ldots ,n\right\} =\left\{ 1
                                                                                                                  Αm
With words that i should have said
And as i drown in my regrets
                                                                                                                         Am
I can't take back the words i never said
I never said
I can't take back the words i never said
  (Fm )
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       Em
Always talking shit
Took your advice and did the opposite
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     G
Just being young and stupid
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             I never said
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             I can't take back the words i never said
```

I haven't been all that you could've hoped for But if you'd held on a little longer You'd have had more reasons to be proud But i'm talking to myself I know that you can't hear me any more And most of all goodbye But i know that you can't hear me any more It's so loud inside my head With words that i should have said G And as i drown in my regrets I can't take back the words The longer i stand here The louder the silence I know that you're gone but sometimes i swear that i hear Fm Your voice when the wind blows So i talk to the shadows Hoping you might be listening 'cos i want you to know It's so loud inside my head Am With words that i should have said And as i drown in my regrets I can't take back the words i never said

Acordes

