There's so many things that I could say
 But I'm sure it would come out all wrong
 You've got something that I can't explain
 Still I try and try and let you know
 Summer we spent, one could never forget
 Looking for any kind of reason to escape all the mess
 That we thought is what made us
 Ain't it funny now, we can see
 We're who we're meant to be

You still have all of my
 You still have all of my
 You still have all of my heart
 (Ohhhh)

There's so many things left to say
 I could have been better and stronger for you and me
 You always make me feel okay

Those late summers we may stay up talking all night
 I ask, "You think we'll ever make it?"
 You say, "I'm sure, if it's right."
 And it's funny to think how stupid I used to be Hope you always believe

You still have all of my
 You still have all of my
 You still have all of my heart
 [x2]

Let them talk and talk and talk
 Let them say what they want
 We will laugh at the thought; they don't know what we got Every year that goes by, a year older we are You'll still be beautiful then, bless your beautiful heart

We'll talk and talk and talk
 How crazy it seems
 We can waste our whole lives helplessly
 Just patiently waiting for a love like you and me
 (For a love)

You still have all of my
 You still have all of my
 You still have all of my heart
 [x2]
