                                                                I'd ask, "You think we'd ever make it?"
Intro: C Am
                                                                You'd say, "I'm sure if it's right"
Verse 1:
                                                                Ain't it funny to think just how stupid I used to be There's so many things that I could say
                                                                Hope you always believe
But I'm sure it would come out all wrong
                                                                tabrefrão
 You got something that I can't explain,
                                                                You still have all of my
Still try and try and let you know
                                                                    Am
                                                                You still have all of my
Verse 2:
                                                                You still have all my heart (2x)
That first summer we spent's one we'll never forget, refrão
            Am
Looking for any kind of reason to escape all the mess that Bridge:
We thought was what made us
                                                                         Gm
                                                                Let them talk and talk and talk
Ain't it funny now? We can see
                                                                         Bb
                                                                Let them say what they want
We're who we're meant to be
                                                                        Dm
                                                                We will laugh at the thought
tabrefrão
                                                                They don't know what we've got

                                                                      Gm
                                                                                                 Bb
                                                                Every year that goes by, a year older we are
You still have all of my
                                                                                Dm
                                                                You'll still be beautiful then
You still have all of my
    Dm
You still have all my heart
                                                                Bless your beautiful heart
refrão
                                                                        Gm
                                                                They'll talk and talk and talk
Instrumental: C Am
                                                                    Bb
                                                                How crazy is it?
Verse 3:
                                                                              Dm
                                                                Someone could waste their whole life, helplessly,
                                   Am
 There's too many times I have to say
                                                                Just patiently waiting for a love like you and me
I could have been better and stronger for you and me
                                                                tabrefrão
                        Am
You always make me feel okay
                                                                    C
                                                                You still have all of my
Verse 4:
                                                                    Am
                                                                You still have all of my
                                                                    Dm
Those late summers we spent, stay up talking all night
                                                                You still have all my heart (2x)
