Mind Riot

Mind Riot
Intro:

I was slipping through the cracks of a stolen jewel
I was tightrope walking in two ton shoes
Now somebody is talking about a third world war
And the police said this was normal control

Versos

And the candle was burning yesterday
Like somebody's best friend died
And I've been caught in a mind riot

Refrão

I was crying from my eye teeth and bleeding from my soul
And I sharpened my wits on a dead man's skull
I built an elevator from his bones
Had to climb to the top floor just to stamp out the coals

"I'm tired within....."

And the candle was burning yesterday
Like somebody's best friend died
And I've been caught in a mind riot

"I'm lucks last match struck....."

I'm tied within
I'm luck's last match struck
In the pouring down wind
