

Steve Earle - I Thought You Should Know

Tom: D

I been watchin' you watchin' me, I could feel your eyes from way across the room
 But now that I'm holdin' you close I can see ain't no way I'm gonna get around you
 I won't tell you I don't need you tonight, I won't pretend I ain't burnin' inside
 Your skin glowin' soft in the silver moonlight, the shadows where the promises hide
 The bittersweet taste of your kiss, it's all more than I can resist

You might as well just pick up your little black dress and go
 Somebody else already tore it apart
 And I thought you should know

Maybe this is all that you want, maybe you're just as lonesome as me
 A shoulder that you can cry on, a warm safe place you can be Someone to call in the middle of the night when the ghosts in your bedroom won't rest
 Two arms to hold you tight, I promise that I'll do my best
 To give you everything I got to give and keep your secrets for as long as I live

Chorus

Harmonica

Chorus

If you're thinkin' 'bout breakin' my heart
