Not many notes, this time, but there are a few things to remember:

- 1) This tab is rather strict in which guitar does what, because otherwise there will be problems. I can't stress that enough. The lead guitar is the standard-tuned guitar (Guitar 1), and the guitar in Drop-D is the rhythm guitar (Guitar 2).
- 2) This is mostly based on what I saw live when thing I don't know for certain is the use of the standard-tuned guitar instead of a Drop-D. However, the point is that it works, and it does sound like what they played live.

That's all. Cheers!
