

tate mcrae - Ew Feelings

And are you just a poison that I shouldn?t use?
                            tom:
                                                                Wish I could say to you
Intro: A E B Dbm
                                                                What I can?t say to you
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                [Refrão]
Playing cool makes me lose my mind
                                                                We could take it slower
I can?t be someone I don?t recognise
                                                                Wait until we?re older
I?m not the type to have to say it twice
                                                                But I might be somebody
                       Dbm
Or wait for you till the end of the night
                                                                You might not even know her
I?ve been falling fast and you don?t seem to move
                                                                I?m going through changes
                       Dbm
But is it worse for me, if I tell the truth?
                                                                It?s a rollercoaster
And are you just a poison that I shouldn?t use?
                                                                But I might be somebody
Wish I could say to you
                                                                You might not even know her
What I can?t say to you
                                                                We could take it slower
                                                                We could take it slower
We could take it slower
                                                                [Ponte]
Wait until we?re older
                                                                I?ve been falling fast and you don?t seem to move
But I might be somebody
                                                                                      Dbm
You might not even know her
                                                                But is it worse for me, if I tell the truth?
I?m going through changes
                                                                And are you just a poison that I shouldn?t use?
It?s a rollercoaster
                                                                Wish I could say to you
But I might be somebody
                                                                What I can?t say to you
                   Dbm
You might not even know her
                                                                [Refrão Final]
We could take it slower
                                                                We could take it slower
We could take it slower
                                                                Wait until we?re older
                                                                But I might be somebody
Who knows who I?ll be tomorrow
                                                                You might not even know her
                        Dbm
But I still hope you?d like her the same
                                                                I?m going through changes
We might end up strangers somehow
                                                                It?s a rollercoaster
You should get to know me today
                                                                But I might be somebody
I?ve been falling fast and you don?t seem to move
                                                                You might not even know her
                       Dbm
But is it worse for me, if I tell the truth?
                                                                We could take it slower
                                                                We could take it slower
