                          tom:
                   A              A                  E
D
Lilac short skirt, the one that fits me like skin
A                  E              D
Did your research, you knew the price going in
                   A              E
And I'll tell you one thing, honey
                        D
I can tell when somebody still wants me, come clean
                                        A
Standing at the bar like something's funny, bubbly
 E                      D
Once you fix your face, I'm going in

 A
Whether I'm gonna be your wife, or
 E                      D
Gonna smash up your bike, I haven't decided yet
But I'm gonna get you back
                            E
Whether I'm gonna curse you out, or
                        D
Take you back to my house, I haven't decid?d yet
                   A
But I'm gonna get you back

      E                     D
I, I hear th? whispers in your e-e-eyes
                        A
I'll make you wanna think twice
      E                 D
You'll find that you were never not mine

(You're mine)

  A                 E                    D
Small talk, big walk, act like I don't care what you did
      A                 E                    D
I'm an Aston Martin that you steered straight into the ditch

Then ran and hid
And I'll tell you one thing, honey
 E
I can take the upper hand and touch your body
                           A
Flip the script and leave you like a dumb house party
 E                      D
Or I might just love you till the end

 A
Whether I'm gonna be your wife, or
 E                      D

Gonna smash up your bike, I haven't decided yet
But I'm gonna get you back
                            E
Whether I'm gonna curse you out, or
                        D
Take you back to my house, I haven't decid?d yet

      E                     D
I, I hear th? whispers in your e-e-eyes
                        A
I'll make you wanna think twice
      E                 D
You'll find that you were never not mine

(You're mine)
A                     E
I can feel it coming, humming in the way you move
 D
Push the reset button, we're becoming something new
  A                           E
Say you got somebody, I'll say: I got someone too
 D
Even if it's handcuffed, I'm leaving here with you
A
Bygones will be bygone, eras fading into grey (fading into grey)
We broke all the pieces, but still wanna play the game (oh)
  A                                   E
Told my friends I hate you, but I love you just the same
 D
Pick your poison, babe, I'm poison either way

       A
Whether I'm gonna be your wife, or
 E                      D
Gonna smash up your bike, I haven't decided yet
But I'm gonna get you back
                            E
Whether I'm gonna curse you out, or
                        D
Take you back to my house, I haven't decid?d yet
                   A
But I'm gonna get you back

      E                     D
I, I hear th? whispers in your e-e-eyes
                        A
I'll make you wanna think twice
      E                 D
You'll find that you were never not mine
                   A
I'm gonna get you back
