the end: This song is not as difficult as i made it sound at first. Three chords repeated over and over. If you listen to the song when you play it then it makes sense, the tempo is slow so watch for that while you are playing. Questions or comments can be emailed to me: JohnnyWu2@hotmail.com. If you aren't on the tenacious d mailing list, you should be, that is where i send updates of new tabs that i make, otherwise you just have to keep the website.

Chords: Play the "G" chord with your bottom three fingers (middle, ring, and pinky) it makes it easier to hit the add on to the G (with your index finger). The other chord names may not be correct, but they are at least close, who cares if the name is right just play it the way i tabbed it.
