                                                               I'll pretend to be someone
All I need is someone to save
            Am
                                                                                  Dm
                                                               But I don't want to talk about it
Want to be remembered
                                                                              Am
                                                               I just want the violence to overgrow
Want you to know my face
                                                               ( Dm C Am Bb )
All I need is rest
Get that pain off my chest
     Am
All I need is silence
        Bb
Give me sex and violence
It's all the same
                                                                 Moving through the silent fumes
( Dm C Am Bb )
                                                                  Smokey clothes
                                                               And dirty rooms
                                                               Won't make me sick anymore
                                                               Some things I want to show you
It's all the same to me
                                                               Right on the tip of my tongue
                                                                               Dm
Found myself in a living room
                                                               I don't want to talk about it

Surrounded by people I don't even know
                                                               I don't want to dream anymore
                                                                              Dm
I can count all my friends with a single hand
                                                               I don't want to talk about it
Watching me like I got something to show
                                                               Is it love?
                                                                      Bh
