

Thalles Cabral - Temporary Palace

tom:

Intro: E A E

I spent the last years of my life

Struggling with the ocean

I've been living a lonely and silent life

That's the way I found to deal with my emotions

But the angst inside me left my body

And for now I have this temporary palace

Now I see and I can feel

Now I breathe and I feel free

Life is something beautiful

I completely lost track of space and time

Wasn't able to feel anything besides
This sorrow that slowly melted my heart

To stone and took away all my best part

Set me free from worries and all regret

I don't know how much longer this will last
But I want to say to my future self

That I've already been there and it's gonna pass

But the guilt inside me left my body

And for now I have this temporary palace

Now I see and I can feel

Now I breathe and I feel free

Life is something beautiful

I'm alright today

Unkind thoughts are buried in the ground
I'm ok, my friend

I'm alright today

Unkind thoughts are buried in the ground
I'm ok, my friend

( E A E A )

Life is something beautiful
