

The Belle Brigade - Sweet Louise

```
Intro: E E A E B A E
                                                         What I wrote made sweet Louise
                                                         Gbm A
                                                         Feel weak in her knees
                          Ē
Did you hear about me
Gbm A
Me and what I've done
                                                         And I thought that everyone would know by now
I wrote a letter to sweet Louise
                                                          I've been alive long enough to know how things just get around
Gbm A E
I confessed my love
                                                         And everybody probably thinks I'm crazy
                                                         Well I'll just tell you now
And I thought that everyone would know by now
I've been alive long enough to know how things just get around That I fell in love and I couldn't help myself Dbm Abm A E B A E
                                                          I just fell in love and I couldn't help myself
And everybody probably thinks I'm crazy
Well I'll just tell you now

                                                         In that moment you knew from her eyes
                                                                  Ab
That I fell in love and I couldn't help myself
                                                          She don't feel the same

I just fell in love and I couldn't help myself
                                                         But oh my words were not in vain
                                                                  Dbm
"One, two, a one, two, three, four"
                                                          'Cause I can always say till the day I die
                                                            Dbm
                                                                          Abm A
                                                          That I, I told her anyway
It was like a movie
                                                         Well I'll just tell you now
