

The Chainsmokers - Selfish (feat. Rihanna & Future)

```
Tom: A
                                                                    Gold rose petals, bottle standin?
                                                                    Came from the concrete, takin' chances
  Primeira Parte:
       Gbm E Bm
                                                                    Gbm
                                                                                      Е
                                                                                             Bm
                                                                    Pop gold Ace like a Xanny
It was right
                                                                    I just need the blessin' from your family
Even though it felt wrong
               Gbm E Bm
                                                                    Pré-Refrão 2x:
Nothin' ever stopped you
                                                                            \mathsf{Gbm} \quad \mathsf{E} \quad \mathsf{Bm}
                                                                    Broken lies, ain't no love without us $\operatorname{\mathsf{Gbm}}$ \mathsf{E} \mathsf{Bm}
                                    Gbm E Bm
From showin' your progression suddenly
                                                                    It will die, ro
                                                                                    roses turn into dust
Pré-Refrão:
                                                                    Every night, we gettin' more popular $\operatorname{\mathsf{Gbm}}$ \to \operatorname{\mathsf{E}}$ \to \operatorname{\mathsf{Bm}}
        Gbm E Bm
Broken lies
         Gbm E
                                                                    Wrong is right, when it comes to us
Drivin' backwards
                Gbm
                                                                    Refrão:
Makin' all the wrong turns
                                                                    Gbm E Bm
                                                                                         Gbm E Bm
                                                                    Oh, let's not be alone
Sayin' all the wrong words
                                                                              Gbm E Bm
       Gbm E Bm
                                                                    Let's not be alone
Dodgin' angels
                                                                     Gbm E Bm
                                                                    Tonight, let's be sel___fish
Gbm E Bm
Refrão:
                                                                    Selfish, tonight
Gbm E Bm
Oh, let's not be alone
                                                                             Gbm E Bm
           Gbm E Bm
                                                                    Let's be sel___fish, selfish, baby
Let's not be alone
                                                                      Gbm E Bm
       Gbm E Bm
                                                                    Tonight
Let's be one
                     Gbm E Bm
                                                                          Gbm
                                                                                E Bm
Gbm F Bm
        let's not be alone
                                                                    I'll be selfish
Oh.
       Gbm
                   E Bm
                                                                    Let's be selfish
Empty thoughts fill the room
                                                                    Gbm E Bm
                                                                    Ohh, ohh
Gbm E Bm
                   Gbm
Breathe for me and I'll breathe for you
                                                                                          Gbm E
                                                                    Ooooh, oooo-oooo-oooh
Segunda Parte 2x:
                                                                    I'll be selfish
I just hit the liquor side of France
                                                                       Gbm E Bm
Currency exchange, lookin' fancy

Gbm E
                                                                    Let's be selfish
                                                                    let's be
If that money dirty, make it dance
25 karats cost a mansion
                                                                    Final 3x: Gbm E Bm
```

Acordes

