

The Cure - Pictures of You

Tom: A

you i've been ^A looking so long at these ^D pictures of you you that i almost believe that they're real you i've been living so long with my pictures of can feel that i almost believe that the pictures are all i remembering you standing quiet in the rain as i ran to your heart to be near close and we kissed as the sky fell in holding you how i always held close in your fear remembering you, running soft through the night you were bigger and brighter and wider than snow and screamed at the make-believe screamed at the sky and you finally found all your courage to let it all go remembering you fallen into my arms, crying for the death of your heart you were stone white so delicate lost in the cold you were always so lost in the dark remembering you how you used to be slow drowned you were angles so much more than everything oh hold for the last time then slip away quietly open my eyes but i never see anything if only i'd thought of the right words i could have held onto your heart
 if only i'd thought of the right words you i wouldn't be breaking apart all my pictures of looking so long at these pictures of you but i never held onto your heart looking so long for the words to be true but always just breaking apart my pictures of you
