

The Fratellis - Lazybones

Tom: G

(intro) D C G A

D C G A
Screen is blue, and the fire is red,
D C G A
Should i get up, or stay in bed?
D C G A
No I believe, I've got it wrong.
D C G A
Stay right here, where I belong.
D C G A
'Cause I've got the brains, to bury my head,
D C G A
Well all that remains, is just to get out of bed.
D C G A
I'm missin' the best, part of the day,
D C G A
Stealin' tomorrow just to help me get over today.

Screen is blue, and the fire is red,
Should i get up, or stay in bed?

No I believe, I've got it wrong.
Stay right here, where I belong.

'Cause I've got the brains, to bury my head,
Well all that remains, is just to get out of bed.
I'm missin' the best, part of the day,
Stealin' tomorrow just to help me get over today.

Just an ordinary guy,
Shoes have got holes and my hopes are high.
I've got to say, though I'm confused,
Well everyone that I pass seems so amused.
Well I've got the wheels, but I don't got the time,
I know how it feels, stuck at the back of the line.
I've don't got the words, s'not easy to say,
Stealin' tomorrow just to help me get over today.

'Cause I've got the brains, to bury my head,
All that remains, is just to get out of bed,
I'm missin' the best, part of the day,
Stealin' tomorrow just to help me get over today.
