

The Kinks - Be Rational

Tom: F

C F Bb F
 I've so much still to learn, I've found another open door
C Dm
 To find, discover and explore
Bb F
 And when that's done there'd still be more

C F Bb F
 I thought I knew it all but now I've broken all my rules
C Dm
 She got me stumbling like a fool
Bb F
 My knowledge seems so minuscule

Bb F Bb F
 Be rational, think what is it I'm feeling?
Gm Dm Gm Dm
 I feel so alive, yet paralyzed

Really goes to show how deep emotions sometimes go
The more we learn, the less we know

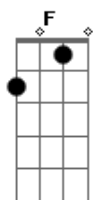

Be rational, think of the club consider your reputation
A raconteur, adventurer
Be rational, be wise assess the situation
Be calm, be cold, it will be so

F Dm Am
 And logically I should decline there's no equation to define
E C
 A feeling that is so divine, a man like me just has no time

I'm such a worldly man for once I'm stuck without a plan
For once I need a guiding hand
Somebody help me understand

You're intelligent, you're smart but it's not in your equation
Or on the map, or in the chart
Gm Bb F
 You see you simply lost your heart
