

The Kooks - Fractured And Dazed

```
Intro: Em D G D C D
                                                               Never a greater sorrow
                                                                Five hundred years in the wild with you
I'll never give your love
                                                               Wouldn't be enough
Never give your love away
                                                                We flying, to crazy to imitate
Remember love, When we weren't so fractured and dazed
                                                                And if I was you
In a world where we try to hurt eachother
                                                               I would have done the same
                                                                When lies meant truth to you
 I know you feel bad
                                                                                           Em D G D C D
For what you did and how you recovered
                                                               It was you who loved the fame
 I\,{}^{\backprime}\text{m a blessed man}
                                                                I'll never give your love,
Just to have touched your face
                                                               I'll Never give your love away
But then again
                                                                )
I'll never give you up
Em D
Who are you to make me replace that
                                                               No matter what you say
And if I was you
                                                               I'll never give your love,
I would have done the same
                                                               I'll Never give your love away
            D
                                                                I'll never give you up
C Em D
When lies meant truth to you
                            Em D G D C D
It was you who loved the fame
                                                               No matter what you say
                                                               (G C G C)
I'll never give your love,
I'll Never give your love away
                                                                And if I was you
I'll never give you up
C Em D
                                                               I would have done the same
No matter what you say
                                                                When lies meant truth to you
                                                                                         Em D G D C D
                                                               It was you who loved the fame
Blue eyes and a flicker of wonder in you
                                                               [Final] G C G C
