Have you seen her go, where the lonely go?

Yes, I've seen her walk where nobody knows

Past the ancient sands of time

Where the shadows wait in line, for Derridae

Have you heard her laugh, have you seen her cry?

Yes, I've seen these things at least a thousand times

A spell that no man can undo

She will do the same to you ? Derridae

So listen now, and hear these words

Don?t live your life in constant hurt

The days will pass and you'll remain

A prisoner of Derridae

In a coat of black she will bring you tears

They'll be falling down for a thousand years

On the rainy streets so grey

And everything will fade away ??cept Derridae

So listen now, and hear these words

Don?t live your life in constant hurt

The days will pass and you'll remain

A prisoner of Derridae

So listen now, and hear these words

Don?t live your life in constant hurt

The days will pass and you'll remain

A prisoner of Derridae
