                                                                Clouds and rain
Intro: G G G F
                                                                And no one cares 'til they've got the marks to prove it [Verse]
No one was crying
                                                                Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it (Rolling
They simply got a little something in their eye shadow)
No one was lonely
                                                                Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it
                                                                                                                     (Fallen
They just could not get hold of anybody
                                                                Dm
                                                                Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it (Rolling
Over the summer, a lot changed
                                                                shadow)
And they all changed to keep up with it
                                                                Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it (Fallen

Too complicated
                                                                (Rolling shadows, fallen arrows)
Too complex to talk to anybody [Instrumental]
[Chorus]
                                                                GGGF
                                                                G G G F
Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it (Rolling
                                                                GGGF

                                                                [Chorus]
Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it (Fallen
                                                                Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it (Rolling

[Verse]
                                                                Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it (Fallen
All this is sky light
                                                                arrow)
Forget that it's there but it's there, no doubt about it
                                                                Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it
                                                                                                                     (Rolling
Take a photo of it, come back years on Dm (Fallen
                                                                Marks to prove it, got the marks to prove it
And wonder why you took it
                                                                arrow)
Thousands of people [Instrumental]
                                                                GGGF

Tight lines and hopes the weather stays the weekend
                                                                G
