

The Maine - Blood Red

tom:

My, my, my
 What fangs you have
 Once upon a time
 Your eyes were wide not dead

Then all the energy
 Reversed the chemistry
 Your blood it mixed with all the chemicals in your head
 Now all you see is red

You should have warned me
 You were blood red
 Oh, you're blood red, baby
 It came without warning
 Now I'm wounded
 You're so ruthless, darling

Once all the energy
 Reversed the chemistry
 Your blood it mixed with all the chemicals in your head
 Now all you're seeing is
 Blood red

What's it like
 Living with your disease
 You walk the streets at night
 Looking like a well-dressed thief

Once all the chemistry
 Destroyed the memories
 Your blood it mixed with all the chemicals in your head
 Now all you see is red

You should have warned me
 You were blood red
 Oh, you're blood red, baby
 It came without warning
 Now I'm wounded
 You're so ruthless, darling

Once all the energy
 Reversed the chemistry
 Your blood it mixed with all the chemicals in your head
 Now all you're seeing is
 Blood red

Once all the energy
 Reversed the chemistry
 Your blood it mixed with all the chemicals in your head
 Blood red
