

The Mowgli's - Whatever Forever

Tom: Bb

(com acordes na forma de A)

Capostrate na 1ª casa

Well I'm slowly waking up to the screaming Southern Sun
Marching straight at me like soldiers through my eyes
And is this all I'll ever be? Just so hung over in your sheets
And I'll be wondering about that all my life

But its alright, its getting better all the time
Its alright, Yeah its alright

And when the sun comes up like it always does
It's whatever forever, you know we're falling together
And when the sun comes up like it always does
It's whatever forever, it just keeps getting better
short scream

Well I sit up on your bed and you just biting at my neck
You're begging, "Baby, please don't, Baby, don't you leave"
But I gotta go and write these songs so you don't have to get a job
And you just smile at me and drift back into sleep

But its alright, its getting better all the time

Its alright, Yeah its alright

And when the sun comes up like it always does
It's whatever forever, you know we're falling together
And when the sun comes up like it always does
It's whatever forever, it just keeps getting better

Whoa, oh, oh, it keeps getting better
Whoa, oh, oh, (I said) it keeps getting better
Whoa, oh, oh, it keeps getting better
Whoa, oh, oh, it's whatever forever

And when the sun comes up like it always does
Whatever forever, falling together
And when the sun comes up like it always does
It's whatever forever, it keeps getting better

And when the sun comes up like it always does
It's whatever forever, you know we're falling together
And when the sun comes up like it always does
It's whatever forever, it just keeps getting better

I went and wrote this song so you don't have to get a job
So just keep laying there and smiling in your sleep
