 With an eye towards
 A dollar to make
 He pitched us a sale
 About healin' and
 Oil from a snake
 The barkeep he warned him
 But the man he
 Did not comprehend

How strangers round here disappear
 Like straw in the wind

Too young but in love
 When she met him
 In some northern town
 He treated her good
 'Till the sun and
 The whiskey went down
 Did the bruise on her face
 Test the patience
 Of all of her kin

 Like straw in the wind

Oh Clem runs his mouth
 When he drinks since
 His wife passed away
 But he's good to the kids
 And his crops that
 He sells for fair trade
 But a travelling man
 Had enough took a
 Pipe to his chin

 Another man's sin
