

The Strokes - Selfless

```
Gbm6 Gbm7 B7 Gbm B7
                                                               Please don?t be? long,
                            tom:
                                                               Dbm7 Db7 Abm Gbm
                                                               'cause I want you hear
Gbm Gbm6 Gbm7 B7 Gbm B7
                                                                                      heart
            [Primeira Parte]
                                                               I don't have fun,
Gbm
                            Dbm7 Abm
                                                   Gbm
                                                               Dbm7 Db7 Abm A with - out you
                                                               Gbm B
 Can the dark side light my way? Oh, yeah, yeah love
                                                               Gbm B E A
Life is too short, but I will live for you
Gbm Gbm6 Gbm7 B7 Gbm B7
                    Dbm7 Abm
        B7
Lay your hand across my face,?yeah,?yeah
Time we lost,?that's all my fault
                                                               You're mu -cking off,
[Refrão]
                                                               but I will live for you, my selfless love
      Gbm6 Gbm7 B7 Gbm B7
                                                               [Ponte]
Please don?t be? long,
Dbm7 Db7 Abm Gbm
                                                               Gbm
'cause I want you now
Gbm Gbm6 Gbm7 B7 Gbm B7
                                                               Bite my tongue and wait my turn now
                                                               I waited for a century
I don't have fun,
Dbm7 Db7 Abm A Gbm
with - out you Gbm B E Waste my breath, no lessons learned
                      love
Life is too short, but I will live for you
                                                               I turn and face the enemy
                                                                      Gbm
[Solo] Gbm B Dbm Dbm
                                                               I'm not scared, just don?t care
                                                               I?m not listening' and you?re here
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                        Gbm
                        Dbm7 Abm
                                                               He's never dead, but I don't care
How did this fit in your story? Yeah-eah
                                                                      F
                                                               I can't tell you what and where Dbm7 Abm
Gbm B7
Why?d you let them judge your body? Yeah-eah
      В7
                          Dbm7 Abm
I've been waitin' there outside, yeah
                                                               Yeah-eah
                                                               F A [Refrão]
                                                               Yeah-eah
```

Acordes

