

The Vamps - Missing You

Tom: G

I've had space and time to realize the grass ain't greener
 And I kinda miss my side
 Know I shoulda listened when you told me the first time:
 "You won't find another like me"
 'Cause I'm sat here in my front room with a girl who ain't you
 Hopin' and prayin' you're breakin' up with another fool
 Who didn't hear the words that I hear on the same loop:
 "You won't find another like me"
 Maybe I shoulda loved harder
 Put up more of a fight
 I know I could've been stronger tonight
 I look for love, but there's a space inside my mind
 Where I keep on missing you, I keep on missing you
 If you've seen enough, know that I'll be right here
 Now with somebody new, I keep on missing you
 You, you
 I learned every lesson, no more guessing
 No more reasons why I should be reminiscing
 Instead of saying how I feel (I feel)
 Instead of running from what's real (why)
 'Cause I can't keep all this weight on my shoulders
 I can't sleep while my bed's getting colder

Strip it back and underneath, I know
 I'm scared you'll find another like me
 Maybe I shoulda loved harder
 Checked if you were alright
 I know I could've seen things in a better light
 Now I realize
 I look for love, but there's a space inside my mind
 Where I keep on missing you, I keep on missing you
 If you've seen enough, know that I'll be right here
 Now with somebody new, I keep on missing you
 You, you
 You, you
 You, you
 (I, I keep on missing, I, I keep on missing)
 And even though there was nights
 (I, I keep on missing, I, I keep on missing)
 We'd fight until it subsides
 (I, I keep on missing, I, I keep on missing)
 And, God, you know that I tried (I, I keep on missing)
 But I keep on missing you (I, I keep on missing)
 You, you
 You, you
 You, you
 You, you
