

The Veronicas - Ribcage

tom:

C

I never wanted to fall in love
 I always ran when it got too rough
 'Cause one is a lonely number but it never hurts
 You caught me by surprise
 No matter how hard I tried
 I'm startin' to realise that I'm losin' the fight

Oh, I'm feelin' the pressure pushin' my ribcage
 Comin' alive again because of you
 Because of you

You took my chest and you ripped it open
 All of my fears spilled out like an ocean
 I didn't know that I had
 A heart that could love you so bad
 You took my lungs but I'm still not bleedin'
 Set me on fire like I'd always need it
 Showed me that I always had
 A heart that could love you so bad
 A heart that could love you so bad

Laid out my broken pieces (broken pieces)
 One by one, you asked to keep them (asked to keep them)

Rearranged them into beauty I could finally see

Oh, I'm feelin' the pressure pushin' my ribcage
 Comin' alive again because of you
 Because of you

You took my chest and you ripped it open
 All of my fears spilled out like an ocean
 I didn't know that I had
 A heart that could love you so bad
 You took my lungs but I'm still not bleedin'
 Set me on fire like I'd always need it
 Showed me that I always had
 A heart that could love you so bad
 A heart that could love you so bad

I didn't know I could have
 A heart that could love you so bad
 Ooh-ooh, ooh

Oh, I'm feelin' the pressure pushin' my ribcage
 Comin' alive again because of you
 Because of you

You took my chest and you ripped it open
 All of my fears spilled out like an ocean
 I didn't know that I had
 A heart that could love you so bad
 A heart that could love you so bad
