

The White Buffalo - One Lone Night

```
Tom: C
I'm dreaming wide awake
Sleep walking, shake the dust out
Got to give this heart a break,
I can't seem to slow the beats down
There ain't no going home
Just a silence and a wave goodbye
I don't really know about nothin'
Just know that I'm wasting time now
Refrão (1x):
And it'll be one lone night
Should I keep drinking 'til the morning light?
Should I settle down just to get my head right?
Or should I drive?
And it'll be one lone night
Should I buy a ticket for a midnight flight?
Or should I end it all on this here knife?
Or should I
Well there's no light in a lost hope
I got to get back to you somehow
Tongue-twisted sick joke
Yet there's no way of figuring out
Well maybe it's much too late
Time to slow things down
Well there's torture in the weight
And the weight is too heavy now
Refrão:
And it'll be one lone night
```

Acordes

```
Should I keep drinking 'til the morning light?
Should I settle down just to get my head right?
Or should I drive?
And it'll be one lone night
Should I buy a ticket for a midnight flight?
Or should I end it all on this here knife?
Or should I
Or should I try now?
Try now
She says: "Try now"
She says: "Try now"
Try nooow...
Refrão:
And it'll be one lone night
Should I keep drinking 'til the morning light?
Should I settle down just to get my head right?
Or should I drive?
And it'll be one lone night
Should I buy a ticket for a midnight flight?
Or should I end it all on this here knife?
Or should I
Refrão:
And it'll be one lone night
Should I keep drinking 'til the morning light?
Should I settle down just to get my head right?
Or should I drive?
And it'll be one lone night
Should I buy a ticket for a midnight flight?
Or should I end it all on this here knife?
Or should I
She says: "Try now..."
```