

The White Buffalo - Pray to You Now

Tom: G

How can I leave the past alone?
 Now that the end has come along.
 I can't right all my wrongs, so I'll put 'em in songs, for now
 Say goodbye, to the memories and the fear
 Will you lead me upstairs to the light?
 With my shadows and greys, and my evil ways

Refrão:

Well I pray to you now, I don't know how
 It ain't in my heart, is it too late to start?
 So long, to the body and the bones
 They ain't much use to me now
 If my faith isn't blind will I be left behind?

Refrão:

Well I pray to you now, I don't know how
 It ain't in my heart, is it too late to start?
 What's behind the final curtain?
 I can't be certain I'm right
 All I know is I'm really hurtin'
 I'm on my knees tonight

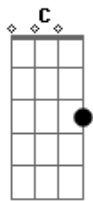

Refrão:

Well I pray to you now, I don't know how
 It ain't in my heart, is it too late to start?
 Well I pray to you now, well I don't know how
 It ain't in my heart, is it too late to start?
 Is it too late to start?

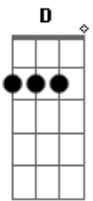

Acordes

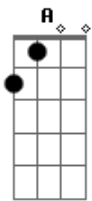

© ukulele-chords.com

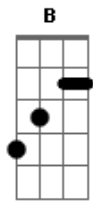

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com