

The Who - Melancholia

Tom: G

Eb My cup is cold, my paper's old, my heart is sold to Melancholia,
 Eb Eb My clothes are torn, my shoes are worn, my heart is born to Melancholia.
 Eb A strange surprise, what I despised in other guys is here in me,
 Eb Eb They lose their girl, they lose their world, and then they cry for all to see
 G D A G D A I've never felt so bad, the fires drive me mad.
 Eb Eb

The sheets are grey, but since the day she went away, I lost all power.
 Eb Eb E The dust is thick, the dog is sick, the kids have picked most of the flowers.
 Am D E Am D The sun is shining, but not for me. The sun is shining, but not for me.
 G D A G D A I've never felt so bad, the fires drive me mad.
 Eb Eb E The sheets are grey, but since the day she went away, I lost all power.
 Eb Eb E The dust is thick, the dog is sick, the kids have picked most of the flowers.

Acordes

