[2nd time: "I got lost in the . . ."]

VERSE I:
[I got lost in the] back-streets
Trying to get here tonight
The police were asking questions
They took me to the wrong place twice
I even lost my passport
And I forgot my name and town
But now I'm here by the water
Put the money down
Before I walk on the water
Put the money down, down, down
There are bands killing chickens
My heros getting pushed around, 'round, 'round
I don't know if I trust you
As you try to shoot me down
Before I walk on the water
Put the money down, down, down
Put the money down.

BRIDGE:
'Twas a beautiful day in Columbus when the fences fell
But the five loaves and fishes ain't gonna be much help
I've got a hungry juggler here who wants to keep ahead

Before he walks the water, he wants his bread.

VERSE II:
[Take a glass of that] nice brown ale
And a purple pill
If the ale don't get you too
Sure as hell the pill will
Oh mummy mummy
Please may I go down town
He's gonna walk on the water
