

Third Eye Blind - Good man

Tom: A
Intro: E

A E
If you ever find a way to forgive me
A E
If you ever find a way to put this all to rest
A E
Because I'm hanging on your dress now like a little boy
Dbm
When all that you wanted
A E
All that you wanted was a good man
A E
Right in the middle of another big fight
A
Boom back another one tonight
E
Blood never forgets but who protects the memories
A
When we bleed each other from the vein
E A
And if you ever find a way to make this interesting
E A
And if I ever find a way to stop disintegrating
E A
Into pieces that I was, that you destroy
Dbm
When all that you wanted
A E
All that you wanted was a good man
A E
Right in the middle of another big fight
Go to bed, it's getting light out
Why do you, why do you
E A
Why do you always find me in the places when I'm coming down
D Dbm
And how do you do it when I'm overwhelmed by a violet sky

D
And we fly in a decayed orbit
Dbm D
66 thousand miles an hour goes by when we kissed
A
And only now do I feel your mouth
Dbm
Like an ache you never knew
And it was right in front of you
D Dbm
Oh, how do you do it, roots in the soil untangled
D
Releasing in sweet summer oil
Dbm
Still I recoil like mace
D
In all the little moments I pushed you away that I can't erase
Dbm
Every moment overflows with power
A E A E A
66 thousand miles an hour
E A
If you ever find a way to forgive me
E A
If you ever find a way to put this all to rest
E A
Because I'm hanging on your dress now like a little boy
Dbm
When all that you wanted
A E
All that you wanted was a good man
Dbm
When all that you wanted
A E E A E
All that you wanted was a good man
Was a good man...
