Tim Be Told - Me To You
                        tom:
                    Db

                        Db
Here we are again
                            Gb
It doesn?t matter if it?s now or then
                    Bbm7
You look in my direction
                    Ab
And stir up my affection
                    Db
And then I?m yours

                    Db
If I could say it now
                            Gb
I?d shout it from the roof clear and loud
                    Bbm7
The stars would even hear me
                    Ab
Til my lungs were weary
                Db
So here I go

                    Db
You need to know
                    Gb
If I believe in me and you
                    Bbm7
It?s running in my mind
                    Ab          Db
I?m running out of time to say I do

Oh I tried
                        Gb
I Tried to follow every rule
                    Bbm7
Went looking for a sign
                Ab          Db
But every single line led me to you

                    Db
Breathe in, breathe out
                            Gb
No time for worry and no time for doubt
                    Bbm7
With everything I am
                Ab
I?ll give you all I can
                        Db
Til there?s no more

                    Db
Give this a chance
                            Gb
It?s not just another song and dance
                    Bbm7
I promise you forever
                    Ab
For worse or maybe better

                        Db
But I?m not sure
                        Db
You need to know
                            Gb
If I believe in me and you
                            Bbm7
It?s running in my mind
                    Ab          Db
I?m running out of time to say I do

Oh I tried
                        Gb
I Tried to follow every rule
                        Bbm7
Went looking for a sign
                    Ab          Db
But every single line led me to you

                            Db
Thought I was through with that
                        Gb
But I keep looking back

Was searching up and down
                        Bbm7
But it was you I found
                    Ab              Db
No matter what I do it always leads to you

                            Db
Some things you never find
                        Gb
But you were there this time

I felt a little rush
                            Bbm7
And then our fingers touched
                    Ab          Db
Everything I knew led me to you

                    Db
You need to know
                            Gb
If I believe in me and you
                            Bbm7
It?s running in my mind
                        Ab          Db
I?m running out of time to say I do

Oh I tried
                            Gb
I Tried to follow every rule
                        Bbm7
Went looking for a sign
                        Ab          Db
But every single line led me to you

                        Bbm7
Went looking for a sign
                    Ab          Db
But every single line led me to you
