

Tom Waits - Cemetery Polka

```
Now he runs a tiny little bookie joint tom:
               Cm
                                                                      Fm
                                                                                    Db C Fm
       [Primeira Parte]
                                                            They say he never keeps it in his pants
                                                            [Quinta Parte]
Uncle Vernon, Uncle Vernon
Cm Ab G
                                                                         Gb
                                                                 Bbm
Inde-pendent as a hog on ice
                                                            Uncle Bill will never leave a will
Cm Ab Cm

He's a big-shot, down there at the slaughterhouse
Cm Ab G Cm

Plays ac-cordion for Mis-ter Weiss
                                                            Bbm Gb F
And the tumour is as big as an egg
                                                              Bbm Gb Bbm Gb
                                                            Has a mistress; she's Puerto Rican
                                                                 Bbm Gb F Bbm
[Segunda Parte]
                                                            And I heard she has a woo-den leg
            Db
                    Fm
                                                            Interlude
Uncle Biltmore, and Uncle William ( Ab )
               Db
Made a million during World War II
       Fm Db Fm
                                                            [Sexta Parte]
But they're tightwads, and they're cheapskates
               Db C Fm
                                                                           Ab
          Fm
                                                           Uncle Phil can't live without his pills

Ab Cm Ab G

He has emphy-sema and he's almost blind
And they'll never give a dime to you
Interlude
                                                            Cm Ab Cm Ab
And we must find out where the money is ( Ab )
                                                           Cm Ab G Cm Get it now, before he loses his mind
[Terceira Parte]
      Cm
           Ab
                     Cm
                                                            [Verso 7]
Auntie Mame has gone in-sane; she lives
                                                                      Db Fm Db
                      Ab G
                                                                 Fm
In the doorway of an old ho-tel
                                                            Uncle Vernon, Uncle Vernon
Cm Ab Cm Ab
And the radio, is playing opera
                                                               Fm Db C
                                                            Inde-pendent as a hog on ice
      Cm
                  Ab G Cm
                                                                 Fm Db
                                                            All she ever says is; "go to Hell"
[Quarta Parte]
                                                            Plays ac-cordion for Mis-ter Weiss
     Fm Db Fm Db
                                                            ( Cm Ab G Fm )
Uncle Violet, flew as pilot
                                                            ( Db C Bbm Gb F )
And there ain't no pretty girls in France
Acordes
```

