Tori Kelly - Art Of Letting You Go

Tom: G
Intro: G C Em (2x)

G
  We were just little kids, we were ambiguous
C             Em
  My crush was serious, it's crazy how
G
  As we were growing up, I could just hit you up
C             Em
  But it just wasn't love, I guess the stars
G
  Never aligned for us, life just snuck up on us
C             Em
  You got a girlfriend and stuff, feelings are bottled up
G
Hide 'em in this song, took the key and locked it up
But when I see you again, no, I can't even pretend

        G                        C          Em
It's always you I go back to; I know it's danger
        G                        C        Em
It's always you my heart runs to, but I'm a stranger
            G
Baby, what happened? What am I to do?
               C          Em
Wanna move on, but I'm scared of losing you
    Am                          C
I can't seem to master the art of letting you go
        Am                          C
No, I can't seem to master the art of letting you go

G

G
  Try not to dwell on it, but sometimes I can't help it
C     Em
So I paint pictures with it
                 G
Even when I was always on the road, I was always doing shows
C            Em
  My life was never slow, don't you know?
G
  Your love stayed in the back of my head
      C     Em
In a house full of a memories is where I lived
G
  Right when I came home, oh no, there I go

Saw you again and I can't even pretend
        G                        C          Em
It's always you I go back to; I know it's danger
        G                        C        Em
It's always you my heart runs to, but I'm a stranger
            G
Baby, what happened? What am I to do?
               C          Em
Wanna move on, but I'm scared of losing you
    Am                          C
I can't seem to master the art of letting you go
        Am                          C
No, I can't seem to master the art of letting you go

G   C                 Em
  Not letting you go
        D
It's just the art of letting you go

Em  D   G
All of   me, I give you everything
            Em   D          G
If you could on - ly  see how much you mean to me
D            Em  D  G                                D
I know you'll al - ways be the one that stays with me,
haunting me
            C                      Am        G
And maybe I'll never know just how to let you go

        G                        C          Em
It's always you I go back to; I know it's danger
        G                        C        Em
It's always you my heart runs to, but I'm a stranger
            G
Baby, what happened? What am I to do?
               C          Em
Wanna move on, but I'm scared of losing you
    Am                          C
I can't seem to master the art of letting you go
        Am                          C
No, I can't seem to master the art of letting you go

G                    C          Em        D
  I'm wishing that I could be happy with you
(Just the art of letting you go)
        G
With you, with you, with you
