Transviolet - Girls Your Age

```
Tom: Eb
                                                                He tells me that I'm hot, so I tell him that I love him
 (com acordes na forma de D )
Capostraste na lª casa
                                                                             Rm
                                                                And he says girls your age,
Bm
17 runnin from innocence, like it's a lion
                                                                      G
                                                        Bm
                                                              A Never mean what they say
G
Nipping at my heels, but I'm young so I out run 'em
                                                                            D
                                                                 I've got a renegade heart,
Bm
Jailbait baby hunting men in their 20's
                                                                And it's screaming his name
G
                                                            Bm
                                                                But then it beats like
Α
Cupid's shooting arrows, but I'm cold so I outgun 'em
                                                                Bm
                                                                 You've got time to kill baby
Bm
Bad boy talking fast, talking dirty
                                                              Bm Don't go jump the gun
   G
Α
                                                                     Α
He tells me that I'm hot, so I tell him that I love him
                                                                Live fast while you're young honey
[Chorus]
                                                                Don't go chasing love, chasing love
            Bm
And he says girls your age,
                                                                 [Instrumental Break}
     G
                                                                Bm
                                                                          G
                                                                                             Α
Never mean what they say
            D
                                                                 [Chorus]
I've got a renegade heart,
                                                                             Bm
                                                                And he says girls your age,
         Δ
And it's screaming his name
                                                                      G
But then it beats like
                                                                Never mean what they say
Bm
                                                                            D
You've got time to kill baby
                                                                 I've got a renegade heart,
G
Don't go jump the gun
                                                                And it's screaming his namev
                                                                But then it beats like
Live fast while you're young honey
                                                                 Bm
G
                  Α
                                                                You've got time to kill baby
Don't go chasing love, chasing love
                                                                Don't go jump the gun
[Verse 2]
                                                                 Live fast while you're young honey
21 thrown back revelry, like it's morphine
                                                                G
                                                                                   Α
                                                                                                 Bm
                                                        Bm
                                                              A Don't go chasing love, chasing love
           G
Thought I knew what I wanted, I never saw you coming
                                                                 [Outro]
Black suit, looking sharp with your dark eyes
                                                           Bm
                                                                Chasing love
   G
                                                                         D
He loves my imperfections, so I tell him that I love him
                                                                 Chasing love
                                                                 Chasing love
[Chorus]
                                                                         Bm
Bm
Bad boy talking fast, talking dirty
                                                                Chasing love
  G
                                                           Bm
```

Acordes

