

Vicente Jr. Trepidants - Remember Me

Why don't you tell me what happened to you tell me why tom:
                                                                                   Bm
Intro: A Bb7 Bm E
                                                            Tell me why you stopped loving me
                                                            ( A7M Bm Dbm D )
What's the use You try to do so
                               I am in you forever
                                                            (Dbm Bm E)
What's all that for? If you always loved me
                                                            And never will get forget me
                                                                                       Ab7
                                                            Why don't you tell me What happened to you tell me why
                                                                   Gb7
Please be fair with yourself If you aren't sure Bm
          A Bb D
                                                            Tell me why you stopped loving me
Do not to that
               but on the contrary
                                                            We were so happy You told me once
Remember me You wouldn't manage to live withou me
                                                            That I was your heaven Your everything
                  Bm
Close your eyes and feel in your heart
                                                                                  Bm
                                                            If I have lost you I'm not to blame me
You'll only see my effigy
                                    Dbm
                                                            I want you baby You need me
You can't face it nobody can do it Just loving you as I Can I get you back again please I want to know
                                                                      A7M Bb
                                                            Don't be so vain
                                                                                 but on the contrary
Everything that you do now Will be for me $\operatorname{A7M}$ Bb D Dm
                                                                                                              Bh7
                                                                                      F
                                                            Remember me You wouldn't manage to live without me
