

Twenty One Pilots - Bounce Man

tom:

E

You should bounce, bounce, bounce, man

Come to the house, man, I'll let my old lady know

You'll be in and out, out, out, man

Float you a couple bands, then you head to Mexico

(D A)

I'll let my old lady know (What would you do, man?)

(D A)

(My friend, yeah, yeah)

Then you head to Mexico

I-i-i don't know if you've got your phone

'Cause this went straight to voicemail

And my wi-i-ife saw your face on the nightly news

Oh boy, what'd you do? Don't matter now

If you need a piece, I'll break it down (break it down)

You should bounce, bounce, bounce, man

Come to the house, man, I'll let my old lady know

You'll be in and out, out, out, man

Float you a couple bands, then you head to Mexico

Yeah, I told you all along

Runnin' away don't make you wrong

Before you bounce, bounce, bounce, man

Come to the house, man, we'll sing one more song

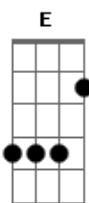

So long

(D A)

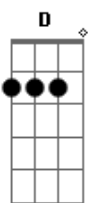

I'll let my old lady know, so long

(D A)

Then you head to Mexico

If they come knockin' (pop, pop, pop)

Ain't no stoppin' me for you

Just let me know you're good on your amenities

Got soldiers on my pedigree

If you don't reply (if you don't reply)

I'll know you must have crossed state lines

She's been cryin', but I'll tell her you're fine

Don't matter now

If you need a piece, I'll break it down (break it down)

You should bounce, bounce, bounce, man

Come to the house, man, I'll let my old lady know

You'll be in and out, out, out, man

Float you a couple bands, then you head to Mexico

Yeah, I told you all along

Runnin' away don't make you wrong

Before you bounce, bounce, bounce, man

Come to the house, man, we'll sing one more song

So long

Da-da-da, ba-da-da-da

I'll let my old lady know, so long

Da-da-da, ba-da-da-da

Then you head to Mexico

Yeah, I told you all along (Da-da-da, ba-da-da-da)

Runnin' away don't make you wrong (Da-da-da, ba-da-da-da)

Before you bounce, bounce, bounce, man

Come to the house, man, we'll sing one more song

So long
