Tom: C

You know ^{Em} he got the cure...but then he went astray,
^C He used to stay awake to drive the dreams he had away
^{Em} He wanted to believe in the hands of love...
^C His head it felt heavy as he cut across the land
^G A dog started crying like a broken hearted man

At the howling wind... the howling wind

He went deeper into black, deeper into white... he could see the stars shine like nails in the night
 He felt the healing, healing, healing, healing hands of love
 Like the stars shiny, shiny... from above.

He put his hands in the pocket, his finger on the steel
 The pistol weighed heavy, his heart he could feel
 Was beating, beating, beating, beating oh my love
 Oh my love, oh my love, oh my love.
