

U2 - Gloria

Tom: D

U2

Gloria

Intro: Riff-

The main riffhere

release the bend

Now for the slide guitar solo. I actually prefer sliding from fret to fret without a slide because it's easier, but either way will do. This is going to be hard to tab out on computer so bare with me. It should at least tell you what notes to play, so have a listen to the CD to get the timing right. I wont note all the slides as of course most of them will be.

There's lots of feedback here fretboard

slide down and up the (Release the bend here as well)

And I try to sing.....

The main riff varies slightly in the verses but the above should give you the general idea. Now for the harmonics over the Chorus. Fool around with them (Edge always changes the way he plays the Chorus of the song) but this will give you the general idea. Remember that all of the note are natural harmonics.

And finally, the guitar after the bass solo-repeat let the delay

Gloria.....

Repeat this many times but be careful of the timing as Edge tends to change it towards the end. I think this is how he finishes-

Acordes

