

Upper Room Music - The Earth Sings Worthy (feat. Abbie Gamboa)

```
We?re all made to give You glory
              tom:
              Gb
Intro: Gb Abm B
                                                                           Gb Abm B
 Gb Abm B
                                                           Everything cries glory (2x)
        Abm
At the conception of the earth
                                                           You made everything
                                                           And everything You made recognizes
The Genesis of everything
 Abm
When light brought day
                                                           Your worthiness
                                                           (2x)
And night gave rest
Gb Abm B
At Your word creation formed
                                                                  Gb Abm B
                                                           The earth sings worthy (4x)
The praise of all the earth was born
                                                           Let everything that has breath
You said it was good and called it blessed
                                                                         В
                                                           Praise, Praise the Lord
                 Abm
Every nuance is a form of art
                                                           Gb Abm Gb B
Pointing back to who You are Praise
Gb Abm B
                                                           (2x)
Distinguished, set apart
                                                           You made everything
You made everything
                                                           And everything You made recognizes
And everything You made recognizes
                                                           Your worthiness
Your worthiness
                                                           (2x)
(2x)
                                                                         Gb Abm Gb B
Gb Abm B (2x)
                                                           The earth sings worthy
                                                           (4x)
And the seasons change on purpose
                                                           Let everything that has breath
                 Gb
They groan in giving worship
                                                           Gb B
                                                           Praise, Praise the Lord (4x)
    Abm
All the earth belongs to You Lord
Gb Abm
                                                                          Gb Abm Gb B
And the clouds they come together
                                                           The earth sings worthy
Giving praise with light and thunder
```

Acordes

