I see you

You shine on me
Dm
Your light's the only thing
                          Bb  C
That keeps the cold out

 Bb                     C
Moon in the summer night
F          A
Whispering of the stars
                          Bb                  C
They're singing like Christmas trees for us

        F
So I'll tell you
                          C
A million tiny things that
          Dm
You have never known
        Bb                     C
It all gets tangled up inside

    F
And I'll tell you
                          C
A million little reasons

                         Dm
I'm falling for your eyes
              Bb             C
I just want to be where you are

Bb                   C              F
 It's such a strange thing to do
                                   A
Sometimes I don't understand you
Bb                                 C
But it always brings me back

To where you are
