Intro: B Eb Abm E
                                                               We never could see eye to eye
                      Eb
                                                               You wanted retribution
Lost my valentine
                                                       E
                                                               I came to the same conclusion
You could never keep my meaning straight
                                                               It's a story as old as time
And I won't wait in line
                                                                                                                   В
                                           Е
                                                               I heard you crying in the other room
For you to give me any time of day
                                                               (B Eb Abm E)
I want a revolution
                                                               Gb
                                                               It took a lifetime
You want a short solution
                                       Е
                                                               For us to see that it's too late?
We never could see eye to eye
                                                                                           Abm
                                                               We're up against fate
You wanted retribution
                                                               And after all of this
I came to the same conclusion
                                                               You keep ignoring the signs
It's a story as old as time
                                                               The waters run dry
I heard you crying in the other room
(B Eb Abm E)
                                                               I want a revolution
                                                               You want a short solution
Try to test the ice
                                                               Abm
                                           Ē
                                                               We never could see eye to eye
I could hear it cracking underneath
                                                               You wanted retribution
There's no compromise
                                                               I came to the same conclusion
If both of us are aching to be free
                                                               It's a story as old as time
                                                                                                                 В
I want a revolution
                                                               I heard you crying in the other room
You want a short solution
                                                               (B Eb Abm E)
