

Vaultboy - Aftermath

tom:
 G
 I moved away and changed my number when I did it
 Em
 I'd hoped that cutting you off would make me feel different
 Am
 I know I'm weaker than I probably seem
 C
 I can't lie I blame you for everything
 G
 All pins and needles when I meet somebody new and I
 Em
 Get all choked up whenever they ask about you and I
 Am
 Feel so pathetic and I wanna scream
 C
 I can't lie I blame you for everything
 D
 I think you know exactly what I mean
 G
 You really fucked me up
 Em
 Screaming at my mirror like I'm fucking drunk
 Am
 Question who I am and what I could've done
 C
 But you're the one who told me that you were in love
 G
 You really fucked me up
 Em
 Close my eyes and think of anything but us
 Am
 Made me feel like I'm the one who's not enough
 C
 But you're the one who told me that you were in love, oh
 G
 Try to forget how you could never meet me in the middle
 Em
 How all the pain that you inflicted made me feel so little

Am
 A little tired of remembering
 I can't lie I blame you for everything
 G
 You'd change so quick you'd start a fight then you'd be saying
 Em
 sorry
 Em
 Made me look like a fucking idiot at every party
 Am
 It made me sick it's so embarrassing
 C
 I can't lie I blame you for everything
 And I think you know exactly what I mean
 G
 You really fucked me up
 Em
 Screaming at my mirror like I'm fucking drunk
 Am
 Question who I am and what I could've done
 C
 But you're the one who told me that you were in love
 G
 You really fucked me up
 Em
 Close my eyes and think of anything but us
 Am
 Made me feel like I'm the one who's not enough
 C
 But you're the one who told me that you were in love, oh
 Oh, oh, oh
 G
 You really fucked me up
 Em
 Screaming at my mirror like I'm fucking drunk
 Am
 Question who I am and what I could've done
 But you're the one who told me that you were in love, mm
